

Subject: 1913 Liberty Head nickel

Brooks, Larry
[Brooklyn, NY]

1930

171 Barnbridge St.
Brooklyn N.Y.
Oct, 9, 1930

American Numismatic Soc.
B'way + 156th st
New York City.

Gentlemen:

I have a 1913 Liberty Head nickel which I understand is valued at fifty dollars.
What has this nickel about it that makes it worth so much? What would be the proper disposition of it?

Any information that you can give me about this matter will be greatly appreciated,

Yours Truly
Harry Brooks.

Oct. 10th 1930

Mr. Harry Brooks
17 Bainbridge Street
Brooklyn, New York

Dear Sir:

If you have a genuine 1913 Liberty head nickel, it probably is worth fifty dollars, but I wish you would check this up. If, on one side it has the head of an Indian, and a Buffalo on the other, it is worth only five cents. The rare one has a large Roman V on the back. If your piece is the latter, I would like to see a rubbing of it.

Very truly yours,

Curator.